Outcome 1 – Children have a strong sense of identity In Preschool we have been promoting and developing the children’s independence to look after their things, their personal hygiene and when playing with other children. We have encouraged the children to engage in and lead the activities giving them a chance to work out the rules, the expectations as well as developing new skills to solve problems.		Outcome 2 – Children are connected with and contribute to their world The children have shown an interest in emergency services. We are going to further explore this interest by learning about what each service does for the community and how to call if they need help.		Outcome 3 – Children have a strong sense of wellbeing The children have been involved in more and more group play, showing an enjoyment of movement games like Duck, Duck, Goose, What’s the Time Mr Wolf and Musical Chairs. The children are learning to celebrate when others succeed.
Outcome 4 – Children are confident and involved learners The children are encouraged to share and explore the ideas that they find interesting, we have revisited games of Bingo, explored weight, wet and dry sand as well as looking at and exploring the different insects in preschool.			Outcome 5 – Children are effective communicators We have enjoyed a range of different media and stories, ranging from pictures, pictures book, videos and songs. The children often request their favourites, showing a growing appreciation for literacy in all its forms.
